

Howard Stern Marries Beth Ostrosky

When working on charts the “receptors” reveal everything. Any planet in the same zodiac sign as the natal Mercury creates a connector (both the natal and transiting corresponding planets operate). Here you can see that Venus is strengthened by the placement of the transiting Sun, which creates our energy chain and makes Venus operational.

In addition, transiting Mercury is angling natal Venus (not in the same zodiac sign), but within a 1-degree orb, causing the corresponding transiting planet to become active. Here you can see that transiting Venus is strengthened again.

Venus pertains to social activities, love, marriage, partnerships, finances, and possessions holding value.

In addition, transiting Jupiter would also be activated because transiting Mercury (not within the same zodiac sign) is within a 1-degree orb of natal Jupiter and therefore transiting Jupiter would be active and will connect to our energy chain because transiting Jupiter is within a 1-degree orb of transiting Venus (working energy chain).

Venus “positive” Jupiter brings life circumstances that run smoothly and uncomplicated, where optimism and generosity thrive. This influence brings shared experiences and cooperation and certainly good timing in endeavors.

Natal planets in the same zodiac sign are combined (here you would combine natal Saturn and natal Mars). Saturn-Mars gives a “forceful” individual (capable of hard work), but tending to “fact and reality”. However, when his “key” planet Venus (planet in the same zodiac sign as natal Mercury) is “negatively” angling natal Saturn and Mars, you would have an overbearing nature that would exhibit course behavior in expressing his disagreement with any issue.

Saturn 8 Scorpio	Mars 13 Scorpio	Jupiter 17 Gemini	Venus 17 Capricorn	Mercury 20 Capricorn	Uranus 21 Cancer	Sun 22 Capricorn	S Node 24 Cancer	Pluto 24 Leo	Neptune 26 Libra
------------------------	-----------------------	-------------------------	--------------------------	----------------------------	------------------------	------------------------	------------------------	--------------------	------------------------

You can see that on his wedding day this Saturn-Mars natal combination is pulled into our influence because transiting Mercury is in the same zodiac sign as transiting Mars, which activates both the natal and transiting Mars (Mars becomes a connector). Natal Mars and transiting Venus are both in the same zodiac sign and are within a 1-degree orb of each other making this influence potentially very strong, and joining our energy chain makes it operate.

October 3, 2008 – Married Beth Ostrosky

From Howard Stern’s standpoint he knows he has found “the right” person to marry (remember, he brings along the Saturn influence, which is “down to earth”, practical, and definite) and he feels deeply demonstrative and passionate about his decision.

Transiting Jupiter passing through the same zodiac sign as natal Venus, the natal “key” planet (Capricorn), represents a time frame in which relationships are full of pleasant experiences, brings good timing especially in partnerships and finances, and favors social engagements, weddings, parties—all-important matters. Transiting Jupiter cycling with his natal Venus (same zodiac sign) would have begun in late December 2007 and could have been determined well in advance of time.

The placement of transiting Jupiter in 13 degrees of Capricorn within a 1-degree orb of the transiting counterpart to Venus, the natal “key” planet, guarantees success and happiness in this marriage.
